D-Day 80

Honouring the service
and sacrifice of the
D-Day generation

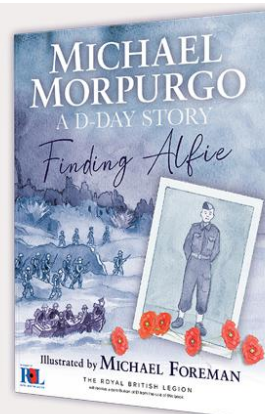

Commemorating D-Day 80

Connecting with the D-Day 80 commemorations

One of RBL's D-Day 80 Services of Remembrance will be held at the National Memorial Arboretum (NMA) in Staffordshire on 6th June. All visitors are welcome to watch the service. Entry into the NMA is free, although booking your visit in advance is recommended to guarantee entry on the day, and to help you save on parking. You can follow coverage of our D-Day 80 events on the BBC. Find out more. We have produced an exhibition to honour the service and sacrifice of the D-Day generation. Legacies of D-Day will be on display at the site of the British Normandy Memorial in France and at the NMA

Finding Alfie: A D-Day Story - teaching resources

If you've got children who are learning about the Second World War in school, why not use RBL's free new learning resource for key stage two (7-11-year-olds)? Ahead of the 80th anniversary of D-Day, we've partnered with Scholastic UK to publish a new story about the Normandy Landings. Finding Alfie, written by Sir Michael Morpurgo and illustrated by Michael Foreman, is a fictional story rooted in real history that will introduce children to this milestone moment in history. Teachers, educators and parents can visit the Teaching Remembrance webpage to download our resources.

from 6th June and you can view it online.

Remembering Sir Clive Johnstone

In his short time as our National President, Sir Clive Johnstone, who sadly died on Sunday 12th May, made a huge impact. We welcome your contribution to honour his life and work through this online book of condolence. To honour Sir Clive's memory, and at the request of his family, contributions can be made to his favourite charities – The Royal British Legion, The Bumblebee Conservation Trust and The SSAFA – through this JustGiving page.

Veteran's Commissioner for England

Last year we launched a petition calling on the UK government to appoint a Veterans' Commissioner for England, as Commissioners in Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland are already dedicated to advocating for the veteran community. Over 1,400 supporters, including members, colleagues and volunteers signed the petition we delivered to the Office of Veterans' Affairs in December. Thanks to this work, the Government will appoint a Veterans' Commissioner for England. Read our official statement here. D-DAY 80

Commemorating the turning of the tide

May's Legion magazine

This issue looks ahead to the 80th anniversaries of the battles that helped pave the path to victory in the Second World War. We preview the Legacies of D-Day exhibition that will be held at the British Normandy Memorial and the NMA on 6th June. We also feature the conflict in Kosovo, 25 years on.

How you can get involved in the General Election

The General Election will take place on Thursday, 4th July 2024. RBL and Poppyscotland have already launched our Manifesto. In it, we highlight our priorities for the next UK government to better support our Armed Forces community. We need your help to ensure your PPCs know about our manifesto and pledge to prioritise their support, if elected. Sign up to our Campaigner Community for details on how you can contact your Parliamentary candidates in the coming weeks.

Watch the May Census webinar and join our Campaigner Community

Thank you to everyone who attended our online Census Webinar in May. We identified the basic size, location, and demographics of the veteran population in England & Wales, showed how the data informs our campaigning work and helps local authorities identify and meet veterans' needs. Contact us here if you have any questions. Sign up to our Campaigner Community to get involved with our campaigning work.
